

WHY JOIN RMACAC?

Have you wondered what the Rocky Mountain Association for College Admission Counseling (RMACAC) is all about and how it might concern you? To answer this question, we developed the following list of reasons why this organization is worth your time and money. Joining RMACAC would give you the means to be forward thinking in your profession through the exchange of ideas and concerns that permeates our activities. It is a great way to learn about the profession of college counseling and the impact we have on students' lives. Consider becoming a member today by visiting our website at www.rmacac.org.

ACCESS TO COUNSELING RESOURCES

Counselor to Counselor Publication

- Shares tools and ideas used by other counselors in their daily jobs including sample recommendation letter formats, a college planning calendar, school profile guides, etc.

Membership Directory

- Contact list for members including school addresses, phone numbers, and staff listings.

Regional College Fairs

- Held in Denver, Albuquerque and Salt Lake City, over 100 colleges share information about their institutions with area high school students and parents. Member colleges receive a discounted registration fee.

RMACAC Listserve

- Opportunity to learn from and communicate with other member colleagues.

UPDATES ON REGIONAL/NATIONAL ISSUES

Legislative Conferences

- Learn about national issues facing our profession and their direct impact on our region.
- Become part of a collective voice to approach the legislature about issues concerning the transition from secondary to post-secondary education.

Newsletter

- Shares news about important opportunities in our region and nationally related to college admission.
- Recognizes RMACAC members doing quality work assisting students.
- Informs the membership of Executive Board decisions and organization direction.

PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT

Annual Conference

- Share ideas, information, best practices and current challenges through presentations, keynote speakers and round table discussions.
- Build relationships between college admission and high school counselors both within our region and nationally through networking opportunities.
- Offer grant sponsorship to five new counselor each year, from underserved areas, to attend this event.

Keeping the Options Open (KOO) Workshop

- Receive valuable training and information about the admission process from experienced high school and college counselors to assist new high school counselors with the nitty gritty of their jobs.